To whom it may concern,

We engaged with Security Detection to rent the Evolve weapons detectors to help protect our Annual Event. In the past we have used Magnetometers for security checks before entering our perimeter. This has been somewhat effective but creates long lines and just a bad start for our guests.

We have looked at several options to try to be more efficient in creating a better experience with quicker and safer entry into our event. After looking at several types of new technology for this, we decided that the Evolve system was the choice for us. In order to test the waters, we went with a rental system to make sure that this system would work well with our current layout.

Security Detection made it very easy for us. Randy and his team set up and tested all of the equipment at our three main gates. Once in place they were available to handle the very few issues we had with very quick response. They provided all necessary equipment to include tables and stanchions. We had 487,207 visitors in 18 days, and our lines never took longer than 2 minutes to clear security. This an astronomical difference then our old system. I would recommend their services.
